

ZERO CODE

LAUNCH YOUR PRODUCT IN 24 HOURS.

Not a mockup. A link you can send a customer tonight.

You have had the idea for months. The gap was never the idea.

HOUR 1

DESCRIBE IT ONCE.

One paragraph. What it does, and who it is for.

No repo to clone. No stack to choose. No developer to wait on.

THE BRIEF

ONE PARAGRAPH

REPO: NONE

DEV: NONE

ULTRON · 51ULTRON.COM

HOUR 2 - 10

IT BUILDS THE WHOLE THING.

Pages, copy, the signup, the payment link.

Written in your voice from things you already said, not from a template.

01

The page

layout, copy, states

02

The signup

wired to somewhere real

03

The payment

so it can actually take money

HOUR 11 - 16

IT GOES LIVE.

A real address, then it opens the page and checks it works.

Not a preview that expires. A URL that loads on your phone.

DEPLOYED

a real address

OPENED AND CHECKED

it renders, the form
fires

THEN DONE

not before

BRIEF → BUILD → LIVE → SELL

 ULTRON · 51ULTRON.COM

HOUR 17 - 24

YOU SEND THE LINK.

To a customer. Not to a designer for feedback.

Changes are another sentence, not another two weeks.

BEFORE

3 wks

brief, wait, review, wait

AFTER

1 day

describe, ship, send

WHAT ACTUALLY CHANGED

YOU STOPPED WAITING ON SOMEONE ELSE.

The bottleneck was never the product.

It was the three weeks between deciding and having something real to show.

COMMENT

LAUNCH

and I will send you the 24 hour build.

How to brief it, and how it checks its own work.
