

ONE WEEK

IDEA MONDAY. REVENUE THURSDAY.

The whole arc, inside one working week.

Most ideas die in the gap between having them and having something to show.

MONDAY

TEST IT BEFORE YOU BUILD IT.

Who has this problem, and do they pay for anything near it today.

An afternoon of checking beats a month of building the wrong thing.

TUESDAY

BUILD THE SMALLEST REAL VERSION.

Live, takes money, does one thing properly.

Not a waitlist. Not a landing page with a form. Something that works.

WEDNESDAY

PUT IT IN FRONT OF FORTY PEOPLE.

Named, reachable, and picked for a reason.

Forty right people beats four hundred addresses, every time.

THURSDAY

THE FIRST ONE PAYS.

Not validation. Money, from someone you did not know on Monday.

One paying customer tells you more than a hundred conversations did.

WHAT ACTUALLY CHANGED

YOU STOPPED RESEARCHING AND SHIPPED.

The week was never the constraint.

The constraint was how long it took to find out you were wrong.

COMMENT

72H

and I will send you the four day run.

What to test Monday, and what to ship Tuesday.
