ELEVEN JOBS, ONE PERSON

THE CEILING

One person does one job at a time. That was the ceiling.

09:00

YOU START ELEVEN JOBS.

In about four minutes. One line each, plain English.

THE WORK THAT USED TO QUEUE BEHIND YOU

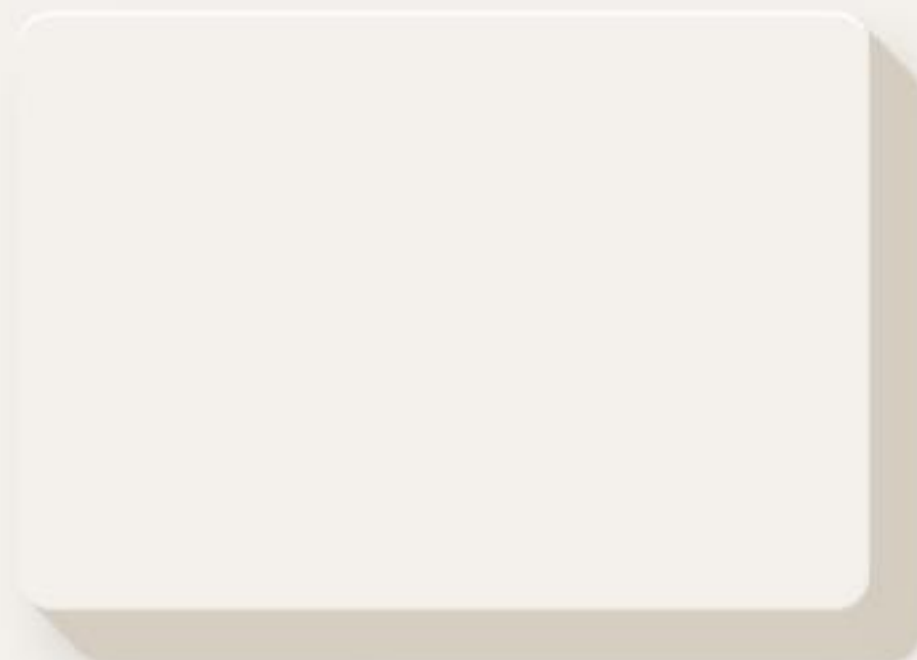

10:30 You have not answered a single question.

1 2 : 0 0

THEY HAND OFF TO EACH OTHER.

What the research found is what the outreach is written from.

Alone, one job at a time

WHAT ACTUALLY CHANGED

YOU STOPPED BEING THE QUEUE.

Everything used to wait its turn behind you.

YOUR DAY WAS NEVER SHORT. IT WAS SINGLE THREADED.

THE ASK

TAKE THE FOUR HOUR DAY.

The eleven jobs, and how to start them all at once.
