

48 HOURS

BECOME THE FOUNDER THEY CALL BACK.

Nobody passes because the deck was ugly.

THE ASK	48 HOURS OUT
Numbers pulled, not remembered	yes
Cohorts charted	yes
Cap table in order	yes
Objections answered in writing	20
Questions you have not thought about	0
READY	48h

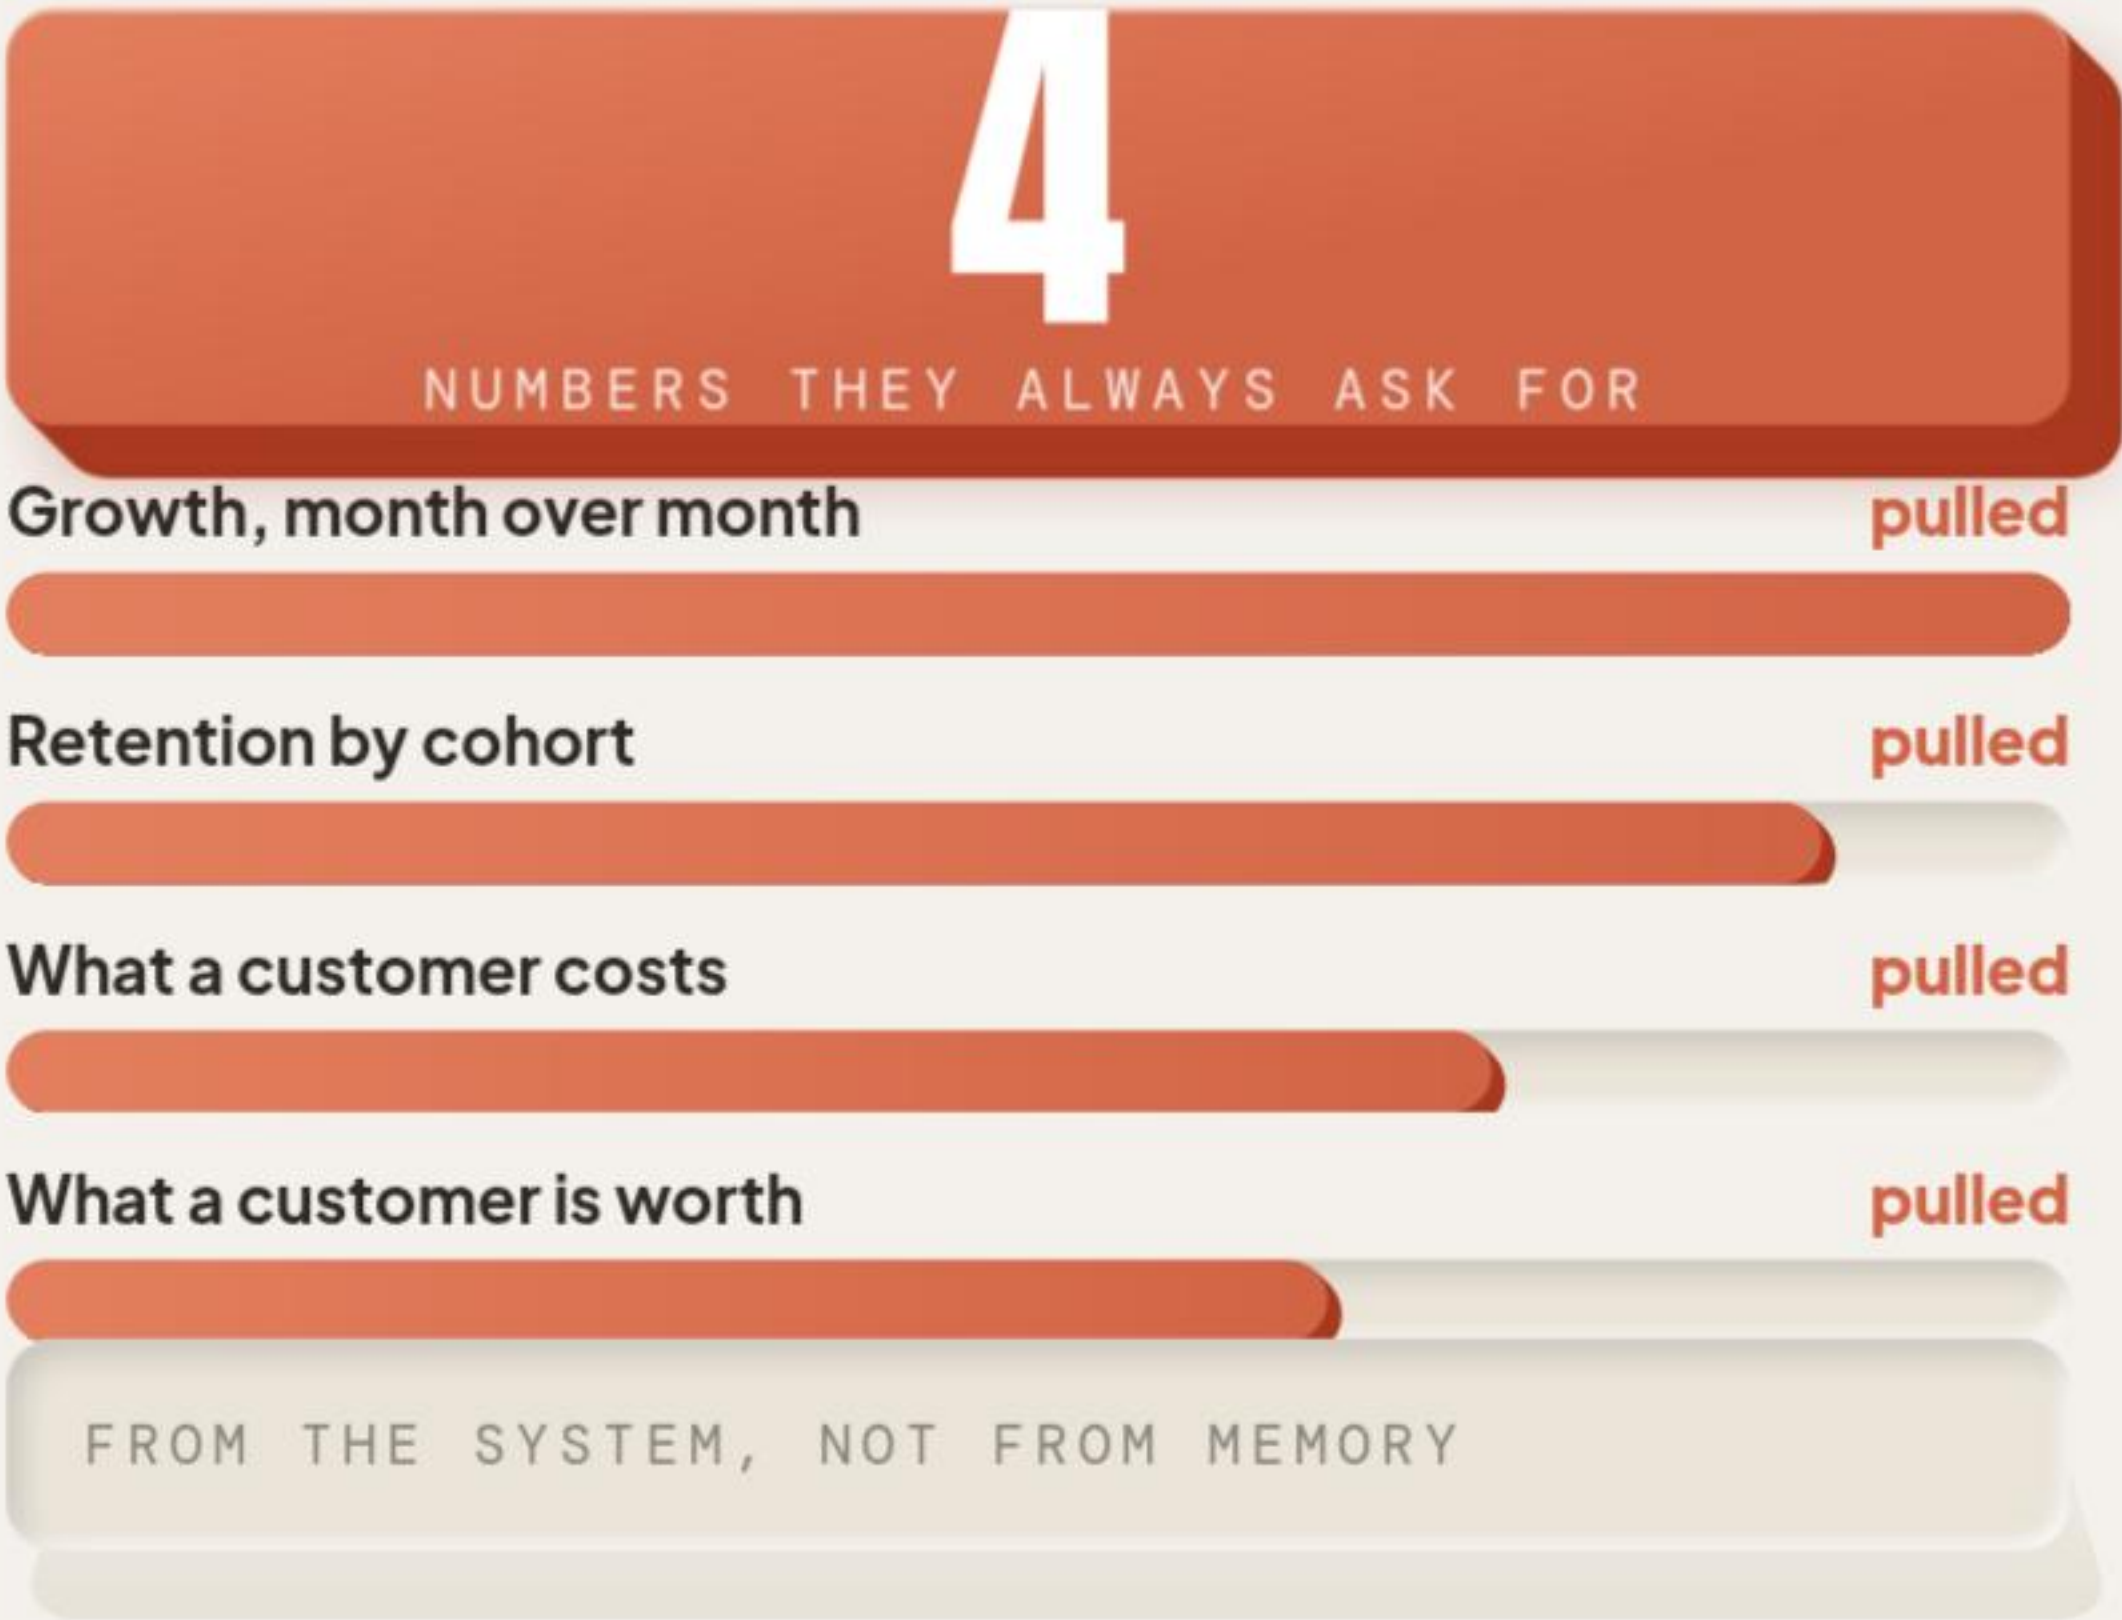

THE REAL REASON

They pass because the second answer was not ready.

HOUR 1 - 6

YOUR OWN NUMBERS FIRST.

Pulled from what actually happened, not from a memory of it.

HOUR 6 You can answer without saying you will follow up.

HOUR 7 - 20

THE STORY THOSE NUMBERS TELL.

Not the story you wish they told.

what is not working yet?

churn above forty seats, here is the cohort

good. most founders hide that one

WHERE YOU ARE EARLY, AND WHAT THE MONEY BUYS

THE TEST

The honest answer is the one that gets a second call.

HOUR 21 - 36

THE ROOM THEY ASK FOR NEXT.

The one you scramble to build after the first good call.

01

The model

assumptions you can stand behind

02

The cohorts

the chart they always request

03

The paper

contracts and cap table, in order

ASSEMBLED WHILE THE CALL IS STILL WARM

36h

HOUR 36

It exists before they ask, not after.

HOUR 37 - 48

THE QUESTION BEFORE THEY ASK IT.

Twenty objections, answered in writing, before the second call.

MARKET

why this is bigger than it looks

CHURN

what happens above forty seats

MOAT

what a competitor cannot copy

TEAM

why these people, now

THE ONE THAT KILLS THE ROUND IS NEVER THE REHEARSED ONE

HOUR 48

You are not surprised in the room. That is the whole trick.

WHAT ACTUALLY CHANGED

YOU STOPPED SOUNDING EARLY.

Same company. Same numbers. A different conversation.

answers that arrive a week after the call

AFTER

answered in the room,
from real numbers
